BIO

With extensive experience of over 20 years in his fields of practice, Boaz Feinberg provides comprehensive services to the firm's clients on a wide range of subjects relating to taxation, on both administrative and regulative levels, as well as in litigation.

In the field of international tax law, Boaz specializes in advising and acting on behalf of corporations, and also high-net-worth individuals and families, particularly multi-national families. He is one of Israel's most prominent specialists on taxation of trusts and estates, providing planning of trusts structures, legal opinions and complex tax rulings in the field.

Boaz provides advice and tax planning on M&A transactions and other complex international transactions. In this capacity, he provides sophisticated and elaborate legal opinions and pre-ruling applications on direct and indirect tax branches, international tax and trusts, and leads negotiations vis-à-vis the Israel Tax Authority and its assessment offices, VAT offices, real estate taxation offices and senior officials, and the District and States Attorney Offices.

Boaz regularly writes professional articles that are published in various journals, professional newsletters and periodicals. In addition, he often lectures on various issues, including the application of new legal obligations that are levied on providers of financial services.
