Insurance and Torts | Commercial Litigation | Environmental Law

BIO

Yoran Gill specializes in litigation, tort law, and insurance and environmental claims. Focusing on complex cases in these areas, he represents some of the largest corporations – including foreign insurance companies – engaged in legal proceedings taking place both in Israel and abroad.

Yoran is recognized by The Legal 500 for his expertise in litigation, tort and insurance law, and for representing leading corporations in landmark environmental cases and international arbitrations.

Across his areas of expertise, Yoran also has extensive experience in representing large firms in international arbitrations. He has successfully represented industrial corporations in the largest environmental cases to ever take place in Israel, such as the Kishon River and Ramat Hovav industrial zone cases, as well as in litigation resulting from the Mount Carmel forest fire. He also represents lawyers in malpractice claims.

Yoran lectures before the Israel Bar Association and in other forums.

Prior to joining the firm as a partner in 2016, Yoran was a partner in another of Israel's law firms.
