EXPERTISE

Corporate and Commercial

BIO

Ido Frishta provides professional legal advice to large commercial entities on all issues relating to complex commercial procedures, international transactions, distribution and cooperation agreements and on-going matters. He represents international and local corporations, both in Israel and abroad, regarding domestic and international infrastructure projects, media, internet, technology, and industry. His clients include bay ports, big retail companies (including food, sport and fashion companies) which operate both physical branches and online stores, high-tech companies, industrial plants, higher education institutions, and companies developing aquaculture technologies, especially in the field of RAS. His work also includes consumer protection regulation at large retail companies and online commercial websites.

As part of his work, Ido is involved in projects and infrastructure transactions, finance transactions, mergers and acquisitions, and international manufacture and goods distribution.
