EXPERTISE

Real Estate | Planning and Zoning

BIO

Sigal Shapira is a lead partner at Arnon, Tadmor-Levy, specializing in real estate, planning, and zoning. Before the merger of the Arnon and Tadmor-Levy law firms, Sigal successfully managed the Real Estate, Planning, and Zoning Department at Tadmor-Levy & Co.

With a unique combination of expertise and extensive experience, Sigal is positioned as a leader in the dynamic and evolving real estate landscape, navigating complex real estate transactions and projects, real estate financing, and urban renewal initiatives. Along with her dedicated team, she offers legal consultancy to various stakeholders in the real estate sector, including developers, organizers, rights holders, landlords, tenants, financial institutions, public bodies, governmental entities, institutional and private entities, landlords, tenants, and purchasing groups. Sigal is recognized by Chambers and The Legal 500 for her outstanding work in these fields.

Sigal's comprehensive approach to overseeing real estate transactions and projects extends from inception to completion, including crucial stages such as feasibility and due diligence, land purchase/sale (whether monetary, combination deals, group purchases, etc.), financial backing, planning and licensing, construction, unit sales and occupancy, registration, and the ongoing management of income-producing properties.

Regarding her distinctive expertise in urban renewal, Sigal provides guidance and advice to all entities involved in this field, actively contributing to numerous urban renewal projects nationwide, with a particular emphasis on large-scale evacuation and construction projects.
