EXPERTISE

Local Government and Municipal Taxation

BIO

Ravit Baram-Mazor has specialized in municipal taxation (specifically property tax and development levies) and local authority law for over 27 years. She is an expert in the financing of municipal infrastructures, particularly water and sewerage facilities, as well as in the regulation of tariffs for the water and wastewater treatment sectors, and also deals with regulatory matters in the fields of building licensing and business licensing.

With extensive experience in advising major entities in her areas of specialization, Ravit also provides legal representation in courts on fundamental issues in these fields.

In 1997, Ravit began working as an advocate at Shavit Bar-On Gal-On, Tzin & Co., and in 2002 she became a partner of that firm. In 2021, she joined Tadmor-Levy & Co. as a partner and head of the municipal taxation department, a role in which she has continued since the merger of Tadmor-Levy & Co. with Yigal Arnon & Co.

Ravit obtained her LL.B. from Tel Aviv University in 1996. She is fluent in both Hebrew and English.
