BIO

Eliran Furman specializes in mergers and acquisitions as well as corporate and project financing. He represents Israeli and foreign companies, both private and public, is a member of the firm's Asia practice group, and co-leads the firm's Japan Practice. Eliran also represents startup companies at various stages of their journey.

As a result of the experience he has acquired over the course of his career (which has included working as an attorney at Paul, Weiss, Rifkind, Wharton & Garrison in New York), Eliran is known for his proficiency in handling complex international transactions, and his ability to smoothly navigate cultural differences inherent in cross-border transactions.

As part of his M&A practice, Eliran represents large corporations and international conglomerates in high-profile acquisitions and cross-border transactions, including transactional, commercial and ongoing corporate counselling.

Eliran also specializes in corporate finance, and has proven to be highly effective in managing large, multifaceted transactions. He has represented some of Israel's leading financial institutions, international banks and companies, including in project finance transactions, a complex practice that involves numerous parties with different agendas and myriad interests.

Eliran is recognized by The Legal 500 and IFLR1000 for his expertise in M&A and corporate finance, reflecting his reputation for successfully leading high-profile cross-border transactions and complex financing deals.

Eliran received his law degree (cum laude) from Haifa University in 2000, a B.A. in Economics from Haifa University in 2001 and an LL.M. from the New York University School of Law in 2005. He has been a partner of the firm since 2011.

Eliran is fluent in English and Hebrew.
